Carpenters Wellness Center will offer a wide range of services to meet members’ health care needs with NO copay and NO deductibles.

Interface Construction broke ground on the Carpenters new Wellness Center on the St. Louis Hampton campus this November, with the center expected to open its doors to covered members and their families Summer 2019.

With urgent care centers and physicians offices around every corner, why has Carpenters Regional Council chosen to make this kind of investment in the health of our members?

Onsite wellness centers have been found to be of great value in healthcare. It reverses the typical patient-physician relationship: Instead of 30 minutes in the waiting room and 10 minutes with the physician, less time will ultimately be spent in the waiting room and more time with the physician for personalized, one-on-one care. More specifically, Carpenters has identified specific ways in which the wellness center will positively impact our members and our Plan.

#1 Personalizing Primary Care Services.
We know that primary care physicians are harder to find and their services do not often provide the personal, high quality care members need. Our center will be...continued on page 2 available for our membership only, thus allowing more time for our wellness center physicians. The care our wellness center will provide will be personal, one-on-one and more than just a quick fix for your healthcare needs.

#2 Reducing Healthcare Costs.
Urgent care and emergency care services are driving up costs in the Carpenters Health Plan. We have discovered members are often using these facilities for services that are not necessarily urgent or an emergency. Both members and the Plan incur unnecessarily high costs when this happens. The wellness center is a better way to get the care members need at a lower cost to both the member and the Plan.

#3 Guaranteeing High Quality Care.
Members often have difficulty finding high quality services. Cerner works to create a positive experience by empowering physicians to provide high quality care and to manage patients’ lifelong health.

#4 Eliminating Out-of-pocket Costs.
Members incur an out-of-pocket cost while using any facility, even In-Network facilities, which often results in a barrier to access the care they need. The new wellness center will be available at no cost to covered members for most services provided.

#5 Utilizing Best-Outcome Specialist Care.
Carpenters Wellness Center will be able to provide a broad range of very personalized care services with improved quality and lower cost to both you and the Plan. Primary physicians will work with specialized physicians to ensure members are receiving the best care possible.

While we understand the Carpenters St. Louis Wellness Center cannot reach all of our members, it is simply the first wellness center for our membership. Discussions have already begun to expand to Kansas City. Future centers around the Carpenters Regional Council are under consideration in key geographic areas where more members can be served.

The Diet.

The word “diet” refers to:

1. the kinds of food that a person, animal, or community habitually eats; example: Vegetarian diet
2. a special course of food to which one restricts oneself, either to lose weight or for medical reasons;

The second definition is most often what you might think of when you think of a diet:

→ to restrict oneself to small amounts or special kinds of food in order to lose weight.

Diets are often the go-to when you’ve had enough, and you decide it’s finally time - again - to take charge of your health and lose weight. Maybe you set that New Year’s Resolution. A perfect pick is the newest diet that’s had success and jump in with two feet on January 1.

If this sounds all too familiar, then you’ve been down this road before. I would venture to say that the Resolution diet didn’t stick. Don’t worry, it wasn’t you. Life likely got in the way and that very strict-way-of-life just became too hard to maintain. Face it, you can only live on eggs, kale, salmon and veggies for so long without some kind of reprieve. So you slowly, or maybe not-so-slowly, revert back to what you know: your traditional, feel good way of eating.

The problem with diets is that they are too strict to stick for the long haul. They do not easily transform into something manageable for your busy lifestyle. Not allowing yourself the freedom to explore and fall off the wagon takes unbelievable willpower. For short term goals? Great! Wanting to living healthier longer? Let’s rethink that resolution.

The Food.

Food is what you eat. Right? Actually, let’s be more clear, so you may get an accurate picture of your own personal health...

Food is nourishment that allows our bodies to work, to grow and to complete necessary repair.

Today’s “food” is more like food-like substances, created in a lab or factory. It’s injected with flavor, dyes, sugar and...
wellbeing

Critical to your body

Food

should be of plant or animal origin, containing essential nutrients for life. When we consume food substances that don’t help us sustain life, we create inflammation, causing sickness, disease and obesity. Sure we can eat it, and these lab creations tell our brain these substances are good. But our bodies can tell the difference, much like your truck can tell the difference between unleaded and diesel fuel. Sputter, sputter.

The Exercise.

You likely can’t see straight, there are so many possibilities for exercise programs. High Intensity Interval Training (HIIT) is not for everyone. Yoga may not be what gets you moving in the morning. The definition of exercise in your life should simply be about movement that your body enjoys but in a variety of ways to create resistance, increased heart rate and promote blood flow. Flashback to the time of living off the land, growing your own food, hunting animals for consumption. Do you think our ancestors even thought about HIIT or yoga? Using your body, moving your body in a variety of difficult ways - these are key to a healthy life.

You get to define what exercise looks like for you. While marathon training may be the best thing since gluten-free sliced bread, you still need to make sure you take care of those aching muscles and move them in other ways, too.

The Confusion.

The best philosophy when figuring out your own health is to forget everything you think you know. Erase the chalk board. What works for you will likely be different than what works for Rich Roll. Once you are to the point when no health philosophy makes sense anymore, you are at the perfect ground zero. Begin trying foods, real foods, one at a time and noticing how they make you feel. Start walking every day or as often as possible. Use your muscles and lift some things. Take small strides in making changes; don’t overhaul, or the changes likely will come and go with that New Year’s Resolution. Piece by piece, as you understand what works for you, the confusion will begin to dissipate.

Your Health.

Health is how you feel inside and out. It equivalates to the amount of energy you have. Health may be seen through the appearance of your skin and is exhibited by your mood. Health is not your weight.

So, forget that New Year’s Resolution. Say no to the new diet. Start something more. Keep to the 80/20 Rule. Eat real food at least 80% of the time. Limit the foods that are marketed on television, on billboards and in the grocery store (the ones that will help you eat Keto or Vegan or gluten-free, without really changing much more than a brand) to 20%. You get one body, one chance. Live a life full of health and vitality, or live a life just full. It’s your call.

Vitamins and minerals are critical to your body’s most efficient function, but there’s always a good place to begin building better health. Nutrients are the fertilizer for your brain. The Director of the Cleveland Clinic Center for Functional Medicine, Dr. Mark Hyman, offers the following suggestions for optimal function:

✓ High-quality, high-potency, highly bioavailable, broad-spectrum multivitamin/mineral [Req. 2- 6 capsules]
✓ Extra magnesium, 200 - 400 mg of either magnesium citrate or glycinate
✓ Extra vitamin D3
✓ Omega-3 fatty acids
✓ Folate, B6 & B12 for methylation, a key biochemical process essential for the proper function of almost all your body systems
✓ Probiotics to improve digestion, reduce food allergies and reduce gut inflammation

HEALTH FAIR PARTICIPANTS
SINCE YOU ASKED...
Why don’t you offer the pneumonia and shingles vaccines at our health fairs?

WE RESEARCHED...
Pneumonia vaccine: 2 doses required;
The Centers for Disease Control (CDC) recommends 2 pneumococcal vaccines for all adults 65 years or older. One dose of PCV13 should be followed by one dose of PPSV23 at least one year later. Over age 65, 2 doses will last your lifetime.

Shingles vaccine: 2 doses required; The CDC recommends the second dose of the shingles vaccine between 2 and 6 months after you receive the first dose. Recommended vaccine frequency is about 5 years.

THE ANSWER...
Because more than one dose of each vaccine is required for best results, and the follow up depends on the initial vaccine date, your physician would be the most suitable provider to follow your vaccination schedule for these vaccines.
