Required Health & Welfare Dependent Audit Beginning in April

The St. Louis - Kansas City Carpenters Regional Health Plan is employing the services of Secova, a third party company, to validate all dependents in the Plan. This audit is being performed to ensure the Plan only provides benefits for qualified dependents.

Experts project that plans can spend millions of dollars on individuals who are not eligible for benefits. This important healthcare cost-saving initiative will ultimately help you keep more of your paycheck.

Visit carpdc to learn more about this audit and how it will affect you.

Helping Hands

Stunning progress is being made on a very special house
More than 30 volunteers showed up last weekend in St. Charles County to finish up exterior work on the 2019 St. Jude Dream Home, which will get raffled off to a lucky winner this summer.

St. Pat's: Carpenters Local 1127 and Millwrights 1529 show off Carpenters pride at Kansas City's St. Patrick's Day parade this past weekend.

On the Road

The Illinois man responsible for bringing “Right to Work” to America’s public sector unions has been taking his show on the road. Mark Janus sued AFSCME in a landmark case that went all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court and resulted in a national RTW law for public employees. Most recently, Janus has been seen in Kansas promoting a state bill designed to cripple unions in the Sunflower State.

History Repeating

Who - or what - is to blame for the well-documented decline of our middle class? Many experts point to automation and new technologies replacing old jobs. But the real reason is more simple than that: “There is a growing consensus among economists that a key factor in wage stagnation has been workers’ declining bargaining power — a decline whose roots are ultimately political.”

Share It

Starting in the 80s, corporate raiders demanded that companies boost share prices by busting unions or moving to non-union states. As this excellent video explains, if you want a better life for you and your children, join a union. And if you want a better America, support unions.
